TWO CENTS

TENTH YEAR.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, FRIDAY, MARCH 29, 1895.

READY FOR THE FRAY

Women Will Vote Next Monday.

A HOUSE TO HOUSE CANVASS

They Want to Know Who is Going to Cast a Ballot—Nurses For Those Who Have Children and Carriages For Those Who Are Weak—A Systematic Effort to Get Out the Vote.

The last few days have worked wonders in the political situation in the city, and it was all done by a sudden determination on the part of the women to get out their portion of the vote.

For weeks after the campaign began to be discussed the women were not considered a factor in the fight, and even now they manifest no desire to win any from the decision they have made, but they are anxious to get out the vote, and are making every effort to have women go to the polls regardless of their political opinion.

The movement is in the hands of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and during the whole of yesterday they were canvassing the city. Two ladies were at work in each ward, and the way they worked showed that they were in earnest. They called at each house in their territory, or as many as could be reached, and stated their object. As a rule they were invited in, and the matter was quietly discussed in a quiet way. The visitors informed the ladies that they were not calling, but were on business bent. They were not electioneering for any one candidate but simply wanted to know how many ladies in the city were going to the polls on Monday.

When desired they gave the names of all the candidates, and discussed their qualifications. Some of the ladies met with peculiar experiences, one of them declaring last night when her part of the work was done that this political business was not what she thought it was and she believed she should have at least $10 for what she had done. Another asserted that she was anxious to see the women vote, but she did not have time from her home duties to wander over the city polling the fair ones who expected to vote.

When engaged in this duty the ladies also found time to present a petition to men and women alike. It deals with the granting of franchise to women giving them an opportunity to vote for officers of all kinds, extending it so that they will be equal with men in the management of government affairs. In a serious way the ladies have been looking at their privilege of voting next Monday, and all preparations are being made to get out as large a vote as is possible. If a woman is too old or too weak to walk to the polls a carriage will be sent for her and she will be driven just as the wicked men have been doing for so long. Should it happen that the prospective voter is the mother of an unruly child who is so utterly unreasonable and inconsiderate that he will not consent to stay at home by himself while his dear mamma dons her wraps, and floats off to the polls to avail herself of a right given by the great legislature of Ohio, there will be a volunteer provided by the society to take her place, and attend to her duty. Oh, the ladies have not been watching and condemning the game of American politics for nothing. They have been learning some valued lessons, and seem determined to fight fire with fire by using the methods so long in use by the Republican and Democratic parties.

The plan to poll the city was conceived some time ago, but for some reason known only to those most interested it has not been made public. At any rate nothing was said until the ladies appeared on the streets, with a roll of paper for those who wanted to sign the petition, and a neat little book for the names of those who wanted to vote. They were successful beyond the expectations of the most sanguine, and although the exact number is not known it is asserted on the best of authority that almost 50 votes will be cast in the East End, and another lot will appear in the other voting precincts of the First ward. They will make a good showing in the Fourth ward, and have a word or two on the result in the Third. Some of the women upon which the canvassers called did not know that there was to be an election on Monday, and it is plainly asserted that others were indignant because they had no right to cast a ballot for the councilmanic ticket. They were angry because they believed there was discrimination against them and they do not like discrimination now that they have an opportunity to vote. In spite of this there are on the lists the names of ladies well known in society, others appear prominently in church work, and not a few are connected with the secret societies of the city. Their object seems to be to get out the vote.

A Serious Fall.

Miss Mary Irwin, a young lady residing with her mother at the foot of Walnut street, fell from a stairway in one of the residences owned by Doctor Gardner on Washington street last evening, and sustained painful injuries. She was calling on her brother, who but recently moved into the house, and did not notice that the banister of the stairway had been temporarily moved to admit some heavy furniture. She fell a distance of 10 feet, and, although no bones were broken and there are no evidences of internal injury, she was unable to walk. After recovering from the shock she was taken home in a carriage.

Measor Obedied the Law.

Yesterday afternoon when the fire alarm sounded Patrolman Measor left the station, and on his way gathered up some of the firemen. When he reached Broadway he stopped his horses, and Officer Supplee held his watch until the three minutes required had passed. Meanwhile the firemen in the wagon had left for the fire, but when the patrol started they were soon overtaken. Chief Adams was looking after some private business uptown, and did not reach the fire until the patrol was on the way home. It is only the second fire he has missed in the seven years of his service.

Will Be a Racer.

Motorman Hale was in Beaver Falls last night taking the oath that binds him to the bicycle club of that city. Bert Irons and Charles Aughenbaugh, two rapid riders who are well known in this city will, with Hale, form the racing team of the club, and they are expected to do good work during the season. The rooms of the association made an impression on Hale, who says they are all that could be asked. Hale was pacemaker at the Wellsville races last year, and has a splendid reputation as a wheelman.

At the Round Table.

Superintendent Sanor left this morning for Wheeling, where he is attending a meeting of the Round Table, a society made up of educators from Ohio and West Virginia. Mr. Sanor is a prominent member of the society, and will open the discussion on five questions, and in addition will take part in the important business of the meeting. The sessions are being held in the Young Men's Christian Association building, and will continue until tomorrow evening.

Meehan Has a List.

Detective Meehan has been so long in the city that he has been able to make a list of boys and men who ride on freight trains, and is only waiting until he can get evidence before making arrests that will fill the cells at city hall to overflowing. The railroad company propose to break up the practice of jumping trains, and the detective will remain in this city until he has taught some of the wicked ones a long lesson. The list is long, containing many names.

A Case of Diphtheria.

The only case of contagion in the city at present is a child in Wucherer addition who is suffering from an attack of diphtheria. The case is not dangerous, and there is no fear that the disease will spread. The health authorities are keeping an eye on Pittsburgh and Wheeling, but have no idea that the dread smallpox will appear here. The authorities in those cities have quarantined the patients, and will take care of them until all danger is past.

Moving at Irondale.

An Irondale man, who was in the city today, says that the town wears a look of prosperity in spite of the strike. The mill is filled with men, many of whom have their families in the town, and the company have contracts that will keep them going for several months. A number of the old employees who went to Indiana and other places have not yet sent for their families.

Closed the Term.

The winter term of the kindergarten closed very happily this morning. The little ones brought their lunch and playthings, and one only had to see them at their play to know that it is blessed to live with the youngsters.

New Box.

The new patrol box, 254, has been put in position in the East End, and works like a charm. Patrolman Measor gave it a trial and found it all right.

ROPE AND REVOLVER

Ended the Life of Squire Faulks This Morning.

THREE BULLETS IN HIS HEAD

The Victim Lived With a Companion One and One-half Miles North of Calcutta. When the Servant Came Home This Morning he Found His Employer Hanging in the Corn Crib With Three Bullets in His Head.

When John Gerry, the man who has been living with Squire Daniel H. Faulks in St. Clair township, looked into a corn crib on the farm this morning he saw a sight that brought the perspiration to his forehead, and sent him down the road to a neighbor with the awful news that the squire had ended his life.

Gerry was the companion of the squire, who was never married, and lived with him in the old farm house, one and a half miles from Calcutta. For several months Faulks has been afflicted with rheumatism, and at times he was almost driven wild with suffering. He bore the pain with as much patience as he could command, but there were days when he was despondent, and would declare that he could not endure it much longer. Early this morning Gerry went to Calcutta to look after some business matters connected with the farm, and while there informed a number of persons that the squire was very ill. He returned home at 10 o'clock, and went into the house to give the result of the trip, but not finding his employer in the room where he usually sat, searched every nook and corner. Then he became alarmed and started for the barn, but changed his course, and looked into the crib. There he saw the object of his search. He was hanging from a rafter of the building by a rope, and the right side of his head and face was covered with blood that flowed freely from three bullet holes in his head.

The weapon from which the shots had been fired lay upon the floor, while the face with horribly distorted features was turned toward the frightened servant. Gerry lost no time in summoning the neighbors, and the body was cut down and taken in the house. As there was no other justice in the township to hold an inquest, word was sent to Calcutta, and Mr. Trotter hastily drove to this city. He had a talk with Squire Rose who went out and held the inquest this afternoon.

The unfortunate man was 62 years of age, and until a little over a year ago resided on the farm with his maiden sister. After she died he had a tenant on the place, but he was replaced a few months ago by Gerry, who lived alone with the old man. Recently he was attacked by rheumatism, and suffered so severely that he would frequently cry out in his pain. Gerry was his only attendant, but did all that he could. Faulks owned the farm, and was in moderate circumstances, with nothing to fear for the future, and the people have accepted the theory that despondency, brought on by his suffering, was the cause of the deed. Through all the years he has been a justice of the peace in St. Clair township he has been looked upon as an upright man, honest in his dealings with his neighbors. He has a sister living in Marietta, and the widow of his brother lives in St. Clair township. She is now Mrs. Knepper, having been married again. He was well known in this city.

The theory as to how the deed was accomplished is that Squire Faulks first placed the rope around his neck, and then swinging himself in the air began shooting, and kept the bullets speeding into his brain until he lost consciousness.

STILL UNSETTLED.

Finance Committee Looks After the Bill of John Sant in Lisbon.

The finance committee investigated the Sant matter in Lisbon yesterday, and Mr. Sant is trying to arrange for a meeting on Monday next to see what they are going to do about it. Auditor Harvey said he wanted nothing to do with the matter other than to set himself right before the public. He claims to be able to prove by Expert Starkey and his assistant that the city would have received the Dow tax anyway, but Mr. Sant says not. Harvey says he told Starkey and the other man that he intended distributing the amounts, but cannot remember telling Sant anything about it. The auditor did not say whether or not he thought Sant had earned his money. The meeting adjourned in Lisbon at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and the committee will not express an opinion today. Mr. Sant says he anticipates no trouble in collecting his bill, and severely scores a local sheet for its fabrications.

THE LADY VOTERS.

How Some of Them Work—Learning the Ropes.

The ladies who are securing lists of their sex who promise to vote on Tuesday next have some experiences which they do not relate to every one and a couple of them in conversation in a suburb last night probably did not think that even the walls have ears.

"I am just tired to death," said Mrs. Blank. "Why do you know I've only started and you know me all day to get 30 names. You know it's more like a friendly call and when you go to the door they expect you to come in. That means an hour's chat at the very least and you just can't get away."

"That's my fix exactly," replied the other, "and the lot of women that ain't posted is surprising. Why do you know I found that 10 out of 20 didn't even know that there was going to be an election next Monday."

"I tell you I think it's worth $10 at the very least to get the job. I wouldn't stop much to ask for it either."

"Ner I," concluded the second lady. "This ward working is not what it's cracked up to be. I'm going to have something out of it or candidates can do their own hustling," and the male members of the crowd wondered if this was the way woman suffrage would work a reform in politics.

Elected Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Elks held last night the following officers were elected: W. E. Wells, E. K.; G. Bendheim, E. L. K.; Daniel Madden, E. R. K.; W. E. Stewart, L. K.; J. W. Holman, sec.; Joseph Turnbull, treas.; William Earlander, Jr., trustee; C. E. Daugherty, tyler.

Washington Camp, Patriotic Sons of America, was organized last night with 28 charter members and the following officers were chosen: Junior past president, J. W. Kissinger; president, W. J. Carnahan; vice president, John J. Swab; master of forms, W. G. Coles; recording secretary, T. J. Jackson; treasurer, Christ Wetzel; financial secretary, G. W. Campbell; conductor, R. A. Doughty; inspector, W. L. Thompson; guard, John McAllister; assistant recording secretary, John Martin; chaplain, R. V. Vanfossan; trustees, Christ Wetzel, W. G. Coles, J. W. Kissinger. The camp will meet next Thursday evening, April 4, in Ferguson & Hill building to be instituted.

Military Notes.

Company E had a fair turnout at drill in the rink last night, and received formal orders to report on Monday evening next at 7:30 o'clock in heavy marching order for inspection. Company E's inspection will be followed by the inspection of Companies K, of Alliance; M, of Mansfield; B, of Akron and I, F and L, of Canton. In view of the recent inspections it puzzles the militiamen to determine what another one is for.

Captain Supplee is in receipt of a printed report of the Washington court house tragedy, explaining the persecution of Colonel Colt and his eventual vindication by the court of inquiry and the governor. It is an interesting document.

Although Captain Supplee and Lieutenant Terrence have heard nothing more from their commissions it is expected that they will receive them soon. They have the assurance of Sargeant Major Hoover that the examination was a creditable one.

Two Foot Races.

There were a number of interesting sprinting matches near the new end of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery yesterday afternoon and considerable money changed hands outside the purses. Ed Talbert and Everett Russell ran a race for $10 and Russell won. Thomas Twaddle challenged the winner for a purse of $10 and defeated Russell in a race. Thomas Lounds acted as starter in both races. Another race or two is promised for the near future and as the entire force at the pottery was out to see the races, they are interested to a considerable financial extent.

Died at Monroeville.

Word was received here to-day that Mrs. Jacob Adams, mother of the well-known hackman of this city, had died in Monroeville yesterday afternoon. Deceased was 70 years of age and her husband who is a few years older is very low and may not recover. The funeral will take place tomorrow, and the family of Mr. Adams will drive from this city this afternoon.

Narrow Escapes from Watery Graves.

THEY WERE BOTH PLAYING

When by Some Unfortunate Mishap They Fell into the Stream—Found Before Life was Extinct, but One was Rescued with Difficulty—Lodged on a Log.

Frank, the six-year-old son of Frank H. Sebring, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. In company with a number of other youngsters he was playing at the wharf when he fell into the river. With some difficulty he was fished out, but the boy had been in the water so long and had swallowed so much water that it was with difficulty he was brought back to life. It required a great deal of skill and patience to save him, yet he is but little the worse today.

On Wednesday afternoon Daniel Boulton, son of William Boulton, Sixth street, came near drowning near the foot of Jackson street. He was playing on the barges when his feet flew from under him, and he went down in several feet of water. A short distance away were moored a number of logs, and these were what saved Boulton's life. The current swept him to these logs where he lodged, and was pulled out by persons who witnessed the accident. The boy was not hurt, and was sufficiently recovered in a short time to be taken home.

In Police Court.

Thomas H. Keeport was arrested by Officer Supplee this morning, and taken to city hall charged with shooting in the city limits. He was being annoyed by a crowd of boys, and stated to the mayor that he only fired in the air with the hope that they would be scared away. The mayor fined him $1 and costs, but he did not have the money, and was locked up until some arrangement could be made looking to the payment of the fine.

A woman giving the name of Mrs. Goodwin called upon the mayor today, asking the co-operation of the police in securing a few articles that were held by parties who did not own them. She said that her son William had traded a watch, gun and coat for a houseboat. She says that the watch was not his.

The nuisance of ball tossing on the streets made itself manifest this morning when a crowd of youngsters were playing on Fourth street. One boy tossed the ball across Washington street to a companion on the other side, but in its journey it came in contact with the lamp, breaking the globe and scattering glass in the street. The boys continued the game as though nothing had happened.

Governor McKinley Not Ill.

Colonel Taylor received word last evening from Governor McKinley stating that he is not ill, and that the reports in the papers are exaggerated. He has been afflicted with a slight cold, but at no time in the period covered by the reports was he seriously or dangerously affected. This will be cheering news to the many personal friends of Governor McKinley in this city.

They Set the Date.

The board of examiners, who look after the applicants for places in the public schools of the city, have decided on May 25 as the date upon which the examination will be held. It has been the custom of the examiners to meet in June, but the schools close earlier than usual this year, and the change was deemed advisable on this account.

Max Seiter Dead.

Word was received in this city last night of the death of Max B. Seiter, national councillor of the Daughters of America. Mr. Seiter was elected to the position he held in the order during the convention which was held in this city last August, and has many friends here who will learn with regret of his death.

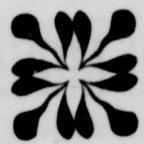

A Car Load Order.

The statement was made this morning that the Union Pottery had secured an order for two car loads of ware. Investigation showed that the order was nearer one than two car loads, but pleasing to the employees nevertheless.

East End Ladies Meet.

The ladies of East End will meet in Taggart building at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning to receive instructions for voting at Monday's election.

Women Will Vote Next Monday.

They Want to Know Who is Going to Cast a Ballot—Nurses For Those Who Have Children and Carriages For Those Who Are Weak—A Systematic Effort to Get Out the Vote.

The last few days have worked wonders in the political situation in the city, and it was all done by a sudden determination on the part of the women to get out their portion of the vote.

Ended the Life of Squire Faulks This Morning.

The Victim Lived With a Companion One and One-half Miles North of Calcutta. When the Servant Came Home This Morning he Found His Employer Hanging in the Corn Crib With Three Bullets in His Head.

THE LADY VOTERS.

"That's my fix exactly," replied the other, "and the lot of women that ain't posted is surprising. Why do you know I found that 10 out of 20 didn't even know that there was going to be an election next Monday."

"I tell you I think its worth $10 at the very least to get the job. I wouldn't stop much to ask for it either."

"Ner I," concluded the second lady. "This ward working is not what it's cracked up to be. I'm going to have something out of it or candidates can do their own hustling," and the male members of the crowd wondered if this was the way woman suffrage would work a reform in politics.

Elected Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Elks held last night the following officers were elected: W. E. Wells, E. K. G. Bendheim, E. L. K. Daniel Madden, E. R. K. W. E. Stewart, L. K. J. W. Holman, sec.; Joseph Turnbull, treas.; William Earlander, Jr., trustee; C. E. Daugherty, tyler.

Washington Camp, Patriotic Sons of America, was organized last night with 28 charter members and the following officers were chosen: Junior past president, J. W. Kissinger; president, W. J. Carnahan; vice president, John J. Swab; master of forms, W. G. Coles; recording secretary, T. J. Jackson; treasurer, Christ Wetzel; financial secretary, G. W. Campbell; conductor, R. A. Doughty; inspector, W. L. Thompson; guard, John McAllister; assistant recording secretary, John Martin; chaplain, R. V. Vanfossan; trustees, Christ Wetzel, W. G. Coles, J. W. Kissinger. The camp will meet next Thursday evening, April 4, in Ferguson & Hill building to be instituted.

Military Notes.

Company E had a fair turnout at drill in the rink last night, and received formal orders to report on Monday evening next at 7:30 o'clock in heavy marching order for inspection. Company E's inspection will be followed by the inspection of Companies K, of Alliance; M, of Mansfield; B, of Akron and I, F and L, of Canton. In view of the recent inspections it puzzles the militiamen to determine what another one is for.

Captain Supplee is in receipt of a printed report of the Washington court house tragedy, explaining the persecution of Colonel Colt and his eventual vindication by the court of inquiry and the governor. It is an interesting document.

Although Captain Supplee and Lieutenant Terrence have heard nothing more from their commissions it is expected that they will receive them soon. They have the assurance of Sargeant Major Hoover that the examination was a creditable one.

Two Foot Races.

There were a number of interesting sprinting matches near the new end of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery yesterday afternoon and considerable money changed hands over the purses. Ed Talbert and Everett Russell ran a race for $10 and Russell won. Thomas Twaddle challenged the winner for a purse of $10 and defeated Russell in a race. Thomas Lounds acted as starter in both races. Another race or two is promised for the near future and as the entire force at the pottery was out to see the races, they are interested to a considerable financial extent.

Word was received here to-day that Mrs. Jacob Adams, mother of the well-known hackman of this city, had died in Monroeville yesterday afternoon. Deceased was 70 years of age and her husband who is a few years older is very low and may not recover. The funeral will take place tomorrow, and the family of Mr. Adams will drive from this city this afternoon.

Narrow Escapes from Watery Graves.

Frank, the six-year-old son of Frank H. Sebring, had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday afternoon. In company with a number of other youngsters he was playing at the wharf when he fell into the river. With some difficulty he was fished out, but the boy had been in the water so long and had swallowed so much water that it was with difficulty he was brought back to life. It required a great deal of skill and patience to save him, yet he is but little the worse today.

On Wednesday afternoon Daniel Boulton, son of William Boulton, Sixth street, came near drowning near the foot of Jackson street. He was playing on the barges when his feet flew from under him, and he went down in several feet of water. A short distance away were moored a number of logs, and these were what saved Boulton's life. The current swept him to these logs where he lodged, and was pulled out by persons who witnessed the accident. The boy was not hurt, and was sufficiently recovered in a short time to be taken home.

In Police Court.

Thomas H. Keeppart was arrested by Officer Supplee this morning, and taken to city hall charged with shooting in the city limits. He was being annoyed by a crowd of boys, and stated to the mayor that he only fired in the air with the hope that they would be scared away. The mayor fined him $1 and costs, but he did not have the money, and was locked up until some arrangement could be made looking to the payment of the fine.

A woman giving the name of Mrs. Goodwin called upon the mayor today, asking the co-operation of the police in securing a few articles that were held by parties who did not own them. She said that her son William had traded a watch, gun and coat for a houseboat. She says that the watch was not his.

The nuisance of ball tossing on the streets made itself manifest this morning when a crowd of youngsters were playing on Fourth street. One boy tossed the ball across Washington street to a companion on the other side, but in its journey it came in contact with the lamp, breaking the globe and scattering glass in the street. The boys continued the game as though nothing had happened.

Governor McKinley Not Ill.

Colonel Taylor received word last evening from Governor McKinley stating that he is not ill, and that the reports in the papers are exaggerated. He has been afflicted with a slight cold, but at no time in the period covered by the reports was he seriously or dangerously affected. This will be cheering news to the many personal friends of Governor McKinley in this city.

The board of examiners, who look after the applicants for places in the public schools of the city, have decided on May 28 as the date upon which the examination will be held. It has been the custom of the examiners to meet in June, but the schools close earlier than usual this year, and the change was deemed advisable on this account.

Max Seiter Dead.

Word was received in this city last night of the death of Max B. Seiter, national councillor of the Daughters of America. Mr. Seiter was elected to the position he held in the order during the convention which was held in this city last August, and has many friends here who will learn with regret of his death.

A Car Load Order.

The statement was made this morning that the Union Pottery had secured an order for two car loads of ware. Investigation showed that the order was nearer one than two car loads, but pleasing to the employees nevertheless.

East End Ladies Meet.

The ladies of East End will meet in Taggart building at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning to receive instructions for voting at Monday's election.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, MAR. 29.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

MONDAY brings a duty to every man and woman in the city. Let all turn out and vote.

THERE are many men on earth who know no better pleasure than to stand on the street corner and cuss the newspapers of their towns, yet are always the first to fly to an editorial office when they fear their names are to appear in print in an unfavorable light. Such is humanity.

PEOPLE from the north are swarming into the more desirable southern states, and a vast quantity of land has been exchanged for Yankee dollars since the hard times began to force men with a little money from the manufacturing districts. They will put new life into Dixie, and give the people a few points on enterprise.

It matters not how prominently the silver men of the West and the gold men of the East will bring the money question before the people, it will not be made to supplant the protective tariff in the coming campaign. The American public, unemployed and suffering, knows well the cause of their distress and all the side issues that their Democratic opponents can stir up will have no effect. We want a protective tariff, and the only way to obtain it is by keeping the fire bright, and electing a Republican president and congress next year.

It is said that there is an organized movement among the women to defeat W. L. Smith next Monday, and that all the strength they can command will be brought against him. It would be a bright feather in the Prohibition cap to defeat so staunch and prominent a Republican leader, and it seems that the fair voters have been taking a lesson or two in politics. Let this not swerve one Republican from his path of duty. Vote for W. L.
Smith: do all you can to have him elected. He is a good business man, and has been a valued member of the board. Give him another term.

BELIEVES IN MCKINLEY.

In touching upon the assertion, credited to Governor McKinley, "If the Republican party declares in favor of free silver I will not be a candidate for president," the Cincinnati Times-Star says:

"Whether the governor said it or not, it expresses a sentiment altogether worthy of him or of any other Republican leader. There is nothing remarkable about it. In the first place, it is far beyond the bound of probability that the Republican national convention will favor the free coinage of silver. The party has always stood and now stands for honest money, for a full dollar. What Governor McKinley is alleged to have said means that he could not be a candidate for President on a half-dollar platform; that he does not favor the repudiation of debts to the extent of fifty per cent nor a fifty per cent reduction in the savings of labor and in the purchasing power of wages; that if it were conceivable that the Republican national convention could be induced to endorse the half-dollar idea he would not accept the leadership. The expression ascribed to him is in substance nothing more than a distinct declaration against the fifty-cent dollar. It is nothing more than might have been reasonably expected of a candidate for the Republican nomination. It is nothing less than any man must avow to make himself available for the presidential nomination of the Republican party. If Governor McKinley did not make this assertion in Thomasville the other day, undoubtedly he will make it later, if not in the same language, with the same directness and as much emphasis."

LEADING BUSINESS HOUSES

W. H. Gass.

The boot and shoe trade is one of the most important, commercially and industrially, in the United States, the capital invested therein exceeding that of any other single enterprise.
The large, handsome and splendidly stocked establishment of Mr. W. H.
Gass is located on Market street, in the center of the business portion of the city, and is recognized as one of the most prominent boot and shoe houses in East Liverpool. The store is filled from end to end with as large, varied and attractive a line of goods as any one could desire, and the stock is kept supplied with frequent in-voices of all the latest patterns. Advancing the motto that "the best things are the cheapest," first-class goods only are kept by this house, no cheap trash being imported for de-lusive advertising purposes. The beautiful manner in which the goods are displayed, the perfect neatness in which everything in the establishment is kept, speaks volumes for the good taste and the high appreciation of the advantages to be derived from an attractive and pleasant place in which to do business with Mr. Gass, who takes much pride in this as well as all other features of the business.
The stock of boots and shoes just received by him is one of the largest in the city, and offers to patrons a great variety of styles and designs. He has on hand an especially fine assortment of patent leather shoes, particularly the better class, in every style and finish. No house in the same line of business stands higher than that of Mr. Gass for its trade and uniformly excellent quality of the stock in which he deals.

H. A. Kernott.

Among the leading tailoring establishments in East Liverpool must be reckoned that of Mr. H. A. Kernott, located at 147 Fourth street. Since its establishment here this business has grown monthly until now it has reached large proportions. Mr. Kernott has now a reputation for splendid fitting and good work, while his stock always embraces every variety of cloth to suit the taste and pockets of his customers. He has at present on hand at his commodious quarters a magnificent assortment of the choicest samples of cloth to be found in the city or elsewhere, and fresh arrivals of the latest goods are always being received from New York and Chicago, so that the recent colorings and patterns in suitings, trousers and overcoats, are always

to be found at this establishment.
As a cutter Mr. Kernott is everywhere recognized as one of the best in the State of Ohio, and he never fails to give a perfect fit, which is the great essential in the tailoring business.
Mr. Kernott is doing a fine business and is well deserving of success.

Alvin H. Bulger.

An important feature in connection with the progress and prosperity of the business interests of cities is their well conducted drug and pharmaceutical establishments, and in a complete and comprehensive work professing to present in a reliable and attractive manner, the commercial facilities of a city. This enterprise deserves special notice, for this is a business which is a necessity in every town and city in the country, and in the whole list of occupations and trades in East Liverpool there is no more useful or important one than that of the pharmacist. One of the neatest and most attractive stores of this class is that of the gentleman heading this notice, under the immediate supervision of that courteous gentleman, Mr. Bulger.

By the excellence of the goods handled, the ability, enterprise and judgment displayed in the management, it has steadily increased and extended, text by which to judge its enterprise.

Flourishing, prosperous and well established dry goods firms indicate the existence of qualifications among her citizens which are the surest evidences of progress and development in commercial affairs. The dry goods trade must always occupy a prominent position in the history and statistics of East Liverpool, as it evidences in no small degree to the mercantile importance of the community. Among those whose long connection with the business, whose extended trade transactions, high standing and marked reputation entitles him to prominent mention in the News Review is Mr. Henry E. Porter, who conducts one of the best known and most popular dry goods establishments in the city, which is splendidly situated on Fifth street and the Diamond. Mr. Porter keeps constantly on hand a well assorted display of dry goods of every kind and character. The store is filled from end to end with as large, varied and attractive a line of goods as any one could desire, and the stock is kept supplied with frequent invoices of all the latest novelties and newest patterns. The beautiful manner in which the goods are displayed, the perfect neatness in which everything in the establishment is kept—not a speck of dust is allowed to accumulate anywhere, as is frequently the case in many large establishments—speaks volumes for the good taste and the high appreciation of the advantages to be derived from an attractive and pleasant place in which to greet customers of Mr. Porter, the popular proprietor, who takes much pride in this as well as all other features of the business. The new stock of wash fabrics, ginghams, and di-mities just received by Mr. Porter is the largest in the city, and offers to patrons a great variety of styles and designs. He has on hand an especially fine assortment of dress goods in every style and shade. Mr. Porter is a gentleman widely known, and the establishment is favorably mentioned on all hands, and his rating in financial and commercial circles is of the highest order.

John T. Roberts.

This, with his energy and enterprise, has won for him the confidence and patronage of the public.

The prominence which has been given to the trade in articles of adornment for the person, as well as of elegant objects of value for household use and display in this city in the past few years is something remarkable.
Any merchant or manufacturer who can produce something that will please the eye and at the same time render it of use to his fellow citizen, is a public benefactor. This is true in any branch of business, but more especially in the jewelry business.
Mr. Roberts, the gentleman whose name heads this article, comes often under the head of a public benefactor. He has been the means of laying before the citizens and the surrounding section of the country some of the most elegant works of art in clocks, watches, optical goods and jewelry that the eye has delightfully rested on, and he has met with corresponding reward.

Mr. Roberts is well known and highly esteemed, being one of the most popular men in this business in this city, and his honorable, straightforward business methods have gained for him an enviable reputation in commercial circles.

S. Hoskinson.

Among the industries carried on in East Liverpool the manufacture of gents' clothing is a most important one, and when carried on (as in the present instance) in accordance with prevailing styles, the importance is surely all the greater—like a credit to the city that sustains such an industry, and to the gentleman engaged in it. Mr. Hoskinson keeps a full and complete assortment of all the latest styles and designs in American styles and designs in foreign tweeds; also English and French worsteds, etc.
The work turned out by this gentleman has secured for him a first-class reputation, and purchasing his cloths

on the most favorable terms, he is enabled to supply his customers at most reasonable prices. Mr. Hoskinson is an experienced and skillful cutter, honorable and upright in all his dealings, and is deserving of the large and constantly increasing patronage of which he is in the enjoyment.

Eagle Hardware Co.

The many advantages possessed by the city of East Liverpool as a commercial, as well as manufacturing center, cannot be overlooked in an enumeration of the principal mercantile points in the country, with direct reference to the facilities and claims presented by each. With all requisite facilities, unsurpassed by those of her sister cities, East Liverpool has grown to be an important commercial metropolis, and purchasers from neighboring towns are rapidly becoming convinced of, and conceding the fact that many important articles and industrial products can be purchased here as low as in the large eastern cities, at a material saving of time, freight and other incidental expenses worthy of consideration. In connection with the hardware trade, the Eagle Hardware Co. must be mentioned as one of the most prominent, not only in this city, but in the State. From a moderate capital and business at the outset, the proprietors, by hard work, economical habits, business sagacity, and honorable dealing, have acquired a position among the leading commercial houses of the country, and present a splendid example of what industry and careful business discipline can accomplish. Conducted with every advantage to be derived from an enterprising and stainless business policy, the success of this house has increased with each succeeding year, until at the present time it stands equal to any similar establishment in the State. The Eagle Hardware Co. carry a complete line of Pottery Supplies, supplying potteries from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, shelf and heavy hardware, house furnishing goods, ranges, stoves, grates, etc., including all the most popular makes and styles, keeping desirable goods and selling at low prices. Closely identified with the progress and commercial advancement of the city, enterprising, progressive, and in the first degree honorable and liberal in their dealings, Mr.
T. V. Milligan Jr., manager of the local house, and F. W. Milligan, manager of the Wellsville branch, occupy a position equally honorable to themselves and the community in which the house originated.

Ohio Valley Business College.

It is needless to estimate the value
a business college is to any community, as that has long since been recognized, its importance being coeval with the development of a country commercially and socially; and the character of an establishment of this kind decides to a very large extent the intellectual status of the community in which it exists. In East Liverpool there is a certainly just cause for congratulation, as here there is one of the best business colleges in the country—The Ohio Valley Business College. This college has been established about four years, and has
in that time turned out nearly 500 graduates, most of whom are holding good positions throughout the country. Here is taught book keeping, penmanship, shorthand, typewriting and all common branches; also Latin and Greek. Since the college was established the number of students have been constantly augmented and the institution has not only grown in popular favor, but is now conceded to be one of the largest and best arranged institutions of its kind in the State. Prof. John W. Lackey, formerly with the Spencerian Business College, of Cleveland, a very expert penman, and a gentleman of 18 years' experience, is professor of penmanship and bookkeeping. The proprietors, Messrs. Charles Macklin and W. F.
Steele, are both thorough and reliable gentlemen, and are highly esteemed in the community.

Crook & McGraw.

Few departments of industrial and commercial activity have attained greater perfection or a more deserved reputation in Ohio, than that of the manufacture of furniture.

Among the leading representatives in this line is the firm of Crook & Mc-Graw, whose establishment is spacious and well equipped. Messrs. Crook & McGraw have, by strict attention, coupled with a straightforward system of honorable dealing, built up a business which has grown to prosperous proportions. They employ none but skilled workmen, and their facilities are of a strictly first-class character, enabling them to offer special advantages to customers, and to execute all orders in the promptest and most satisfactory manner. Their work is always of the best class and unexcelled for beauty and superiority of finish. In their store is displayed a large and well selected stock of fine household furniture, including elegant parlor suits, bed room and dining room sets. Messrs. Crook & Mc-Graw are energetic, honorable business men, and well deserving of the success they have attained.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, MAR. 29.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

out and vote.

THERE are many men on earth who
light. Such is humanity.

been exchanged for Yankee dollars
people a few points on enterprise.

question before the people, it will not
obtain it is by keeping the fire bright,
and congress next year.

mand will be brought against him. It would be a bright feather in the Prohibition cap to defeat so staunch and
this not swerve one Republican from
his path of duty. Vote for W. L.
Smith; do all you can to have him
elected. He is a good business man,
board. Give him another term.

Star says:

probability that the Republican national convention will favor the free
that the Republican national convention could be induced to indorse the
presidential nomination of the Republican party. If Governor McKinley
did not make this assertion in Thomasville the other day, undoubtedly he
and as much emphasis."

W. H. Gass.

and industrially, in the United States,
The large, handsome and splendidly
stocked establishment of Mr. W. H.
is filled from end to end with large,
as any one could desire, and the stock
voices of all the latest patterns. Advocating the motto that "the best
cheap trash being imported for de-
lusive advertising purposes. The
which everything in the establish-
which to do business with Mr. Gass,
as all other features of the business.
the city, and offers to patrons a great
business stands higher than that of Mr. Gass for its trade and uniformly
he deals.

H. A. Kernott.

Among the leading tailoring estab-
reckoned that of Mr. H. A. Kernott,

its establishment here this business
has grown monthly until now it has
reached large proportions. Mr. Ker-
nott has now a reputation for splen-
always being received from New York and Chicago, so that the recent
to be found at this establishment.
essential in the tailoring business.
Mr. Kernott is doing a fine business
and is well deserving of success.

Alvin H. Bulger.

well conducted drug and pharmaceu-
sion to present in a reliable and
nearest and most attractive stores of
heading this notice, under the immediate supervision of that courteous gentleman, Mr. Bulger.

By the excellence of the goods handled, the ability, enterprise and judg-
has steadily increased and extended,

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

of progress and development in com-
must always occupy a prominent po-
marked reputation entitles him to
most popular dry goods establish-
dently situated on Fifth street and the Diamond. Mr. Porter keeps con-
play of dry goods of every kind and

Frank E. Oyster.

The News Review, in the collating and elaborating of the business interests of this city, with special mission to note their progress and prosperity, unusual facilities and data for observing the importance of the different styles or classes of business, as to their bearing on the general thrift and development of the mercantile advantages and inducements which this city claims and hold out to capitalists in quest of investment.

In a careful, accurate review of East Liverpool's leading business interests, that of the grocery trade at once attracts prominent attention, both as regards the extent of the capital invested, extent and completeness of stock and magnitude of trade; the leading houses in the line compare with any in the leading eastern cities.
Representative among the number is the widely known house of Frank E.
Oyster. Everything required in a first-class grocery house can be had here to perfection, and quoted at prices which command the attention of the closest buyers. Here are the headquarters for the choicest refined sugars, syrups and molasses, spices, foreign and domestic dried fruits, canned goods in every variety, teas, coffees, etc. The policy of this representative house has been of the most progressive and honorable character, and the proprietor, Mr. Frank E.
Oyster, is highly regarded in the trade as an upright and honorable business man. The relation of bare facts in connection with a house of this character, as to its growth and importance, is argument enough, without comment on our part, to direct attention of our patrons to it, and to the high position held by its proprietor.

Joseph Williamson.

The handsomely and elegantly fitted up store of Mr. Joseph Williamson is eligibly situated on Market street, and is most admirably arranged, being one of the finest of its kind until to-day, few, if any, houses in the trade enjoy a larger measure of success. Altogether, this is one of the largest, best equipped and most ably conducted establishments of the kind to be found here or elsewhere.

Mr. Bulger is recognized in business circles as a push and go-ahead man, enjoying the respect and esteem of all who know him.

J. Werner & Co.

Among the many mercantile houses of East Liverpool we commend the tailoring establishment of J. Werner & Co., this firm having since its establishment built up a large and prosperous business. Mr. Werner's genial manners, high accomplishments as a cutter, and prompt and careful attention to all business entrusted to his hands, and the wants of the people, have widened his already large circle of acquaintances and patrons, and greatly enlarged his business. His present sales room and work room are large and commodious, being situated in a very central and favorable portion, and are well adapted for his business.

The sales room contains a large stock, consisting of a fine and seasonable assortment of the latest styles and most desirable fabrics for gentlemen's wear, of both foreign and domestic manufacture, which he is prepared to make to order into garments or suits in the latest and most fashionable manner.

Mr. Werner employs none but first-class workmen, and allows no work to go out of an inferior quality. Being a practical cutter himself, of many years' experience, he is enabled to not only understand every detail of the business, but to give perfect satisfaction to customers.

This firm occupies a position and has attained a reputation that emanates from excellence of work and reasonable prices, and is entitled to and enjoys the esteem and regard of the community.

in the establishment is kept—not a
vantages to be derived from an at-
pride in this as well as all other features of the business. The new stock
mitties just received by Mr. Porter is the largest in the city, and offers to patrons a great variety of styles and de-
highest order.

This, with his energy and enterprise,
patronage of the public.

John T. Roberts.

elegant objects of virtue for household
few years is something remarkable.
Any merchant or manufacturer who
especially in the jewelry business.
Mr. Roberts, the gentleman whose
factor. He has been the means of
jewelry that the eye has delightfully
rested on, and he has met with corresponding reward.

Mr. Roberts is well known and
forward business methods have gained for him an enviable reputation in commercial circles.

S. Hoskinson.

to the city that sustains such an industry, and to the gentleman engaged
English and French worsteds, etc.

abled to supply his customers at
of which he is in the enjoyment.

the city of East Liverpool as a commercial, as well as manufacturing center, cannot be overlooked in an enu-
reference to the facilities and claims
facilities, unsurpassed by those of her
to be an important commercial metropolis, and purchasers from neighbor-
at a material saving of time, freight
the hardware trade, the Eagle Hardware Co. must be mentioned as one of the most prominent, not only in this city, but in the State. From a moderate capital and business at the out-
set, the proprietors, by hard work,
economical habits, business sagacity,
a position among the leading commercial houses of the country, and pre-
industry and careful business diligence can accomplish. Conducted
house has increased with each suc-
establishment in the State. The
line of Pottery Supplies, supplying
potteries from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, shelf and heavy hardware, house furnishing goods, ranges,
most popular makes and styles, keep-
ment of the city, enterprising, progressive, and in the first degree honorable and liberal in their dealings, Mr.
T. V. Milligan Jr., manager of the
the house originated.

Ohio Valley Business College.

It is needless to estimate the value
nity, as that has long since been recog-
the intellectual status of the com-
is one of the best business colleges in the country—The Ohio Valley Busi-
country. Here is taught book keep-
Latin and Greek. Since the college
erly with the Spencerian Business
and bookkeeping. The proprietors,
Messrs. Charles Macklin and W. F.
Steele, are both thorough and reliable
in the community.

Crook & McGraw.

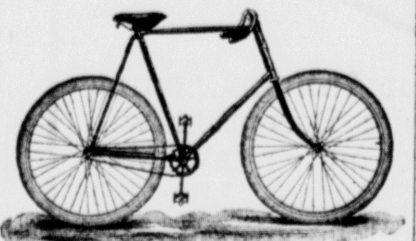

Few departments of industrial and
manufacture of furniture.

in this line is the firm of Crook & Mc-Graw, whose establishment is spacious and well equipped. Messrs. Crook & McGraw have, by strict attention,
coupled with a straightforward sys-
business which has grown to prosperous proportions. They employ none
ties are of a strictly first-class char-
advantages to customers, and to exe-
most satisfactory manner. Their work is always of the best class and
household furniture, including elegant parlor suits, bed room and dining room sets. Messrs. Crook & Mc-Graw are energetic, honorable busi-
success they have attained.

A WOMAN'S PLEA.

she Asks For the Election of True and Honorable Candidates.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I do not plead for space for this article in your paper. I know that I shall be accorded the right to be heard in your columns, as you have time and again, in your editorials, enunciated the grand ideas of justice and fair play. And now a few words to the women of East Liverpool:

"Are you aware of the fact, my sisters, that a glorious right has been accorded you? A privilege from which you have ever been barred. The glorious right of franchise. The right to a voice in the government of your city. Will you trample this privilege beneath your feet? Will you refuse to accept or take advantage of this glorious boon? 'Tis true that you have been given the franchise in but a limited degree, as you are privileged only to cast a vote in the matter of the educational feature. But you must remember that, as you do your duty in this department, so are you entitled to trust and credit, and so will you place yourselves upon record when the question of granting you the full franchise is brought before the country. Be true to the trust reposed in you, oh ye women of East Liverpool. Turn out en masse on Monday, April 11, and cast your vote for school directors, and let the public awake to the fact that you are a power for good."

"And do not be satisfied with simply casting your ballot for this office of school director. Remember that you can exercise, under God, a wonderful power. Use every influence which God has given you to have your father, brother, husband or friend vote for the right. There are vital issues at stake in the councilmanic fight. There are good candidates and bad candidates. See to it that you do your full duty in persuading your male friends to vote for the right. See to it that men go into our council chambers who will look to the very best interests of the city; men who will insist that law and order shall be preserved; men who will ever and always insist that the ordinances shall be enforced to the very letter; men who will compel ruffianism and ruffians to take a back seat; men who will send prize fighters to some foreign realm, or compel them to conduct themselves as do good citizens. In a word, see to it that you exercise every iota of your influence to place good and true men in power in our municipality."

At the Grand.

Miss Virginia Knapp and her company appeared at the Grand Opera House last night to the smallest crowd of the season. Miss Knapp's mysterious powers and the uses to which she turns them are worth alone more than the price of admission. Five citizens on the stage pushing against a long wooden bar were unable to throw her off her feet, while her increasing weight and mind reading exhibition was interesting and mystifying in the extreme. Professor Rea's legerdemain was not out of the ordinary, while Kelly and Hart as colored waiters amused. C. A. L. Edy in baton and rifle manipulations deserved applause. Those who fail to see Miss Knapp tonight will miss seeing a wonderful woman.

Filling a Want.

The people who have been saying complimentary things of Corcoran & Connell because the street in front of the new school building was not cleaned during the winter will have no cause for complaint again. A force of men were put at work this morning clearing away the stones and dirt that have littered the street for months, and it will soon be as clean as any street in the city.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The active Turners will give an invitation dance in Turner hall on Monday evening next.

W. J. Harvey is negotiating for a position with the Virginia Knapp company, which leaves here Monday and goes on a trip southward. He will probably go with the troupe.

Superintendent Jacob Rottenberg, of the Laughlin pottery, was so unfortunate as to lose a pocketbook the other day containing about $50. He has not yet succeeded in locating the missing purse.

Fire committee of council will be at the central station on Tuesday afternoon for the purpose of viewing horses and selecting one that will fill the place of the animal whose position he is to take.

Mr. Morgan, the progressive manager of the Mansfield district of the Prudential company, was banqueting in that city this week by his friends. Mr. Morgan was formerly located in this city, and is well known here.

The trolley wire was down near Thompson's pottery last night, and passengers were transferred, much to their annoyance. The opinion is growing that the company should be compelled to do something, and give an acceptable service.

Officer Wyman was called to the store room of McGhie & Moore, Sixth street, yesterday afternoon, to disperse a crowd of small boys. The youngsters were worrying the people in that vicinity until endurance ceased to be a virtue.

The ladies of the Maccabees will celebrate their anniversary on Monday evening, and it was arranged for Mr. Parker, the state official, to be here to speak on that occasion. Members of the order thought a talk to the ladies as well as the other members would do them good.

T. B. Murphy returned this morning from Brownsville, Pa., where he has been for several days preparing for the disinterment of the remains of a daughter who was buried in the cemetery at that place over 21 years ago. The remains were brought to this city today, and interred in River-view.

The checker players, who are interested in the appearance of James P. Reed at the Young Men's Christian association rooms Monday afternoon and evening, will perfect their arrangements at the association quarters this evening. The enthusiasts are doing all they can to give the champion a warm reception.

A young man concerned in a case in Squire Manley's court some time ago, is said to have started the rumor that he was again prosecuted, this time for non-support of a child. Inquiry among the authorities reveals the fact that the matter stands just where it did before, but just why the young man told the tale is a mystery.

Mr. Harry Reddick and Miss Lizzie Hughes, daughter of William Hughes, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, Third street, Wednesday evening. The serenade was all that could be desired in the way of noise and the boys were sent away happy. Mr. and Mrs. Reddick will go to housekeeping in this city.

A number of the firemen appeared at the blaze near East End yesterday wearing helmets, which are rather a novelty with the laddies. They looked neat, however, and those who saw how easy it was to distinguish a fireman from an ordinary helper, and to give orders accordingly, wondered why the department had not long since been furnished with uniforms complete.

Wellsville chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will entertain the Liverpool chapter on the evening of April 11. The plan is to have the Liverpool Masons bring their ladies with them, and let them be entertained at the Commercial House by the Wellsville ladies while the men are electing a few Royal Arch Masons. Afterward there will be a banquet and ball, and a pleasant time until the last car leaves for Liverpool.

One of the most enjoyable social events in the history of the city was the banquet of the Eastern Star in Masonic hall last evening. The tables were formed in a Maltese cross, and were filled to overflowing with the choicest of refreshment, while beautiful floral decorations aided in brightening the banquet room. Dancing was the principal amusement, and the Stars with their friends passed the hours in a decidedly pleasant manner until after midnight. A number of guests were among the merry party.

Since the authorities here have learned of the system and expense connected with the workhouse at Canton they are favoring the idea of establishing a similar institution in this county. To them it appears a simple matter to have a lot of criminals at work cracking stone, and when it is all done the product of their labor could be utilized in Piking the road from this city to Lisbon. The road needs some improvement, and the authorities think this would be the best as well as the most economic method.

EDITOR NEWS REVIEW—I do not plead for space for this article in your paper. I know that I shall be accorded the right to be heard in your columns, as you have time and again, in your editorials, enunciated the grand ideas of justice and fair play. And now a few words to the women of East Liverpool:

"Are you aware of the fact, my sisters, that a glorious right has been accorded you? A privilege from which you have ever been barred. The glorious right of franchise. The right to a voice in the government of your city. Will you trample this privilege beneath your feet? Will you refuse to accept or take advantage of this glorious boon? 'Tis true that you have been given the franchise in but a limited degree, as you are privileged only to cast a vote in the matter of the educational feature. But you must remember that, as you do your duty in this department, so are you entitled to trust and credit, and so will you place yourselves upon record when the question of granting you the full franchise is brought before the council. Be true to the trust reposed in you, oh ye women of East Liverpool. Turn out en masse on Monday, April 1, and cast your vote for school directors, and let the public awake to the fact that you are a power for good.

"And do not be satisfied with simply casting your ballot for this office of school director. Remember that you can exercise, under God, a wonderful power. Use every influence which God has given you to have your father, brother, husband or friend vote for the right. There are vital issues at stake in the councilmanic fight. There are good candidates and bad candidates. See to it that you do your full duty in persuading your male friends to vote for the right. See to it that men go into our council chambers who will look to the very best interests of the city; men who will insist that law and order shall be preserved; men who will ever and always insist that the ordinances shall be enforced to the very letter; men who will compel ruffianism and ruffians to take a back seat; men who will send prize fighters to some foreign realm, or compel them to conduct themselves as good citizens. In a word, see to it that you exercise every iota of your influence to place good and true men in power in our municipality."

Miss Virginia Knapp and her company appeared at the Grand Opera House last night to the smallest crowd of the season. Miss Knapp's mysterious powers and the uses to which she turns them are worth alone more than the price of admission. Five citizens on the stage pushing against a long wooden bar were unable to throw her off her feet, while her increasing weight and mind reading exhibition was interesting and mystifying in the extreme. Professor Rea's legedomain was not out of the ordinary, while Kelly and Hart as colored waiters amused. C. A. L. Edy in baton and rifle manipulations deserved applause. Those who fail to see Miss Knapp tonight will miss seeing a wonderful woman.

Filling a Want.

The people who have been saying uncomplimentary things of Corcoran & Connell because the street in front of the new school building was not cleaned during the winter will have no cause for complaint again. A force of men were put at work this morning clearing away the stones and dirt that have littered the street for months, and it will soon be as clean as any street in the city.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE BURNED

The Residence of Wesley McKinnon Was Provided With a Defective Flue and the Fire Did the Rest—The Firemen Did All in Their Power.

The residence of Wesley McKinnon, near the Globe pottery, was almost destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

The flames were discovered a few minutes before 5 o'clock, and an alarm was hastily sent in from the pottery. At the station the new box was rung in, and the company started on a long run. Sometime was lost in going down Broadway, but the boys know the streets and byways of the city, and they made a good run. When they reached the house, flames were bursting from the roof and side. A hasty examination showed that the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the furniture, and a stream was soon playing on the fire. The flames had originated in a defective flue, and had gained so much power that it was feared the whole building would be destroyed. It is a double house, and the efforts of the department, as well as the people who lent their aid, were confined to saving the furniture in the portion occupied by Mr. Albert Heckathorn. All was brought out except the bedroom furniture of one room and some clothing. With all the efforts of the department the house was gutted, fire and water causing damage in all parts of the building. The roof was almost burned away, the walls were blackened with great holes in them while the stairway was destroyed and the floors burned. The loss amounts to $1,000.

McKinnon believed that his household effects were insured, but when he examined the policy he found that this precaution had been neglected and the loss on them was total. Little if any of the furniture can ever be used again.

Had the department been able to reach the fire a few minutes before they arrived the building would have been saved.

The alarm was sounded as though the box number was 41, but Chief Adam explains that it was what they style a mixed alarm, which means that an alarm has been sent in over the patrol system, and the box, No. 4, at the fire station has been sounded to alarm the firemen.

There was a laughable incident in connection with the fire that brought a smile from all who heard of it except the party most interested. Miss McDonald, a sister of Mrs. Heckathorn, lost all of her clothes because they had been removed from a trunk. Someone said that the trunk was filled with a wardrobe, and a boy at once made heroic efforts to save it. The load was heavier than he should have borne, for the trunk was large, but when it was opened it was remembered that the clothing had been removed, and the lad had saved nothing but an empty trunk.

To the Public.

Fair play is a jewel. I am a Republican, staunch and true, and have always advocated and voted the ticket. My record of six years in the council chamber I can point to with just pride, as I did everything I could for my ward and constituents. I stand ready to do my full duty today, and to absolutely enforce the laws and ordinances controlling East Liverpool. I won the contest at the primaries and am the candidate of the Republican party. As such, I cannot understand why Republicans are trying to decry and slander me. My record as a good citizen is unimpeachable. All I ask is justice and fair play. I absolutely deny that I am a saloon candidate, and I am not controlled in any manner by saloon keepers, nor will I be.
